

Yakama Nation Autumn 2008 Field Trip

CFR 521D or Envir 500B (2 credits)

October 16 & 17 (Thurs-Friday)

30 student limit

For students in environmental anthropology, ecology, restoration ecology, stewardship of cultural and natural resources, we will spend almost two days with members of the Yakama tribe learning about their historical, current, and future ways of managing their 1.2 million acre reservation (as well as their commitments to the 10 million acres of ceded treaty lands). This will be an opportunity to learn about a critical and unique approach to land stewardship spanning from 200 to 3742 meters! Course Fee for travel & food.

Advising/registration assistance:

Envir: poeadv@u.washington.edu

CFR: cfradv@u.washington.edu

Instructor: hinckley@u.washington.edu

